'ATOMIC-LIKE' BLASTS DEMOLISH PLANT

THE NEW EDUCATION BUILDING of the First Baptist church, which will be known as Youth center, is shown with the church. The building, formerly the Saline hotel, has been completely remodeled and re-decorated, and will be formally occupied Sunday, with ceremonies to be held between the Sunday school and church services.

Dedicate First Baptist Youth Building Sunday

Sunday School Workers, Classes Will Take Part In Dedicatory Service

On Sunday, July 18, at 10:15 a. m., the new Baptist Youth building will be occupied and a special service dedicating the new building to Christian service will be held between Sunday school and church, the Rev. Joe Norman, pastor of the church, announced today.

The dedicatory service will be held in front of the new Sunday school building, and plans are for all of the Sunday school workers and classes who will occupy the new building to take part in the very brief dedicatory service.

Dedicatory Day Program

The Dedicatory day morning services will be as follows:

Bible school 9:30 a. m.

Morning worship 10:45.

Organ Prelude, Miss Frances Cummins.

Call to worship and invocation, pastor and choir.

Looking Ahead for the Sunday School, F. G. Burnett.

Looking Ahead for the Training Union, Ed Creek.

Hymn: "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Announcements and introduction, pastor.

Sunday School Wins for Christ, Rev. Wheeler Thompson, State Sunday School Secretary.

Hymn: "Lead On, O King Eternal."

Worship with Tithes and Offerings.

Organ Offertory: "Reverence," organist.

The Doxology and Prayer of Consecration, congregation and minister.

Anthem: "Rise Up, O Men of God," choir.

Message, Rev. R. J. Morman.

Special offering with congregation passing to the front of the Educational Building for dedicatory prayer and dismissal.

Church Organized in 1868.

Acquisition of the new Youth building came in the 86th year of the church, which was organized Saturday Feb. 15, 1868, with ten

Committees Face One More Task—Redecorating Church

The Building and Grounds committee and the Finance committee of the First Baptist church are just about "out of the woods" with occupation of the new educational building set for Sunday.

However, they have one more task ahead, of less magnitude than the one just being completed. That is a project of repainting and redecorating the main church building.

Bids are being received for work, estimated at upwards of $10,000, for redecorating the church, repairing or replacing some windows, painting and cleaning the outside stone work, and remodeling the nursery.

When that is all finally completed, the church officials and membership then will feel the physical equipment is sufficient to adequately handle church and Sunday school activities.

Death Takes Mrs. Lula Middleton, 78, Of Carrier Mills

Mrs. Lula Middleton, 78, of the Carrier Mills community, died in the Harrisburg hospital yesterday at 7 p. m.

She was the mother of 16 children, four of whom preceded her in death. She was the widow of James Middleton.

Surviving are twelve children: Mrs. Essie Miley, Harco, and Kenneth Middleton, Carrier Mills, who were with her at the time of her death, Mrs. C. E. (Cora) Baker, Carbondale, Mrs. Bill (Sarah) Vaughn, Harrisburg, Mrs. Effie Hamilton, Carrier Mills, Willard Middleton, Evansville, Ind., Mrs. Oba Russell, Pontiac, Mich., Mrs. Pearl Yaney, Carrier Mills, Elvins Middleton, Harrisburg, Route 2, Mrs. Viola Hinkles, Chicago, Mrs. Abil Yates, Chicago Heights, and Lorandor Middleton, Chicago Heights; 38 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Church of God on Harrison street in Carrier Mills. Rev. Walter Fuller will officiate, and burial will be in the Hancock cemetery better known as Reed's chapel.

The body will lie in state at the Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills until 5 p. m. today at which time it will be taken to the home on East Harrison street.

Pallbearers will be Virgil Yaney, Wade Raley, Jimmie Luster, Coy Evans, George McSparrin and Terry Tucker.

The granddaughters will serve as flower girls.

Muddy Power Station Taken Out of Service

Part of Property Is Converted for Substation Use

The Muddy power station, which has served the Central Illinois Public Service Co., as a generating station for more than 35 years, has been taken out of service as a generating station and part of the property is being converted for use in connection with the substation serving four 34,500-volt transmission lines, five 69,000-volt transmission lines and a new 2,400-volt substation to serve the towns of Wasson and Muddy and the surrounding area.

The boilers, turbines and other generating equipment will be dismantled and sold, and the building housing the generating equipment will be razed, as will be the two stacks and the water tower.

The office building and switch-house will be utilized in connection with the substation. All switchboard controls in the power station will be removed to the switchhouse. One of the five water-cooled transformer banks will be converted to an air-cooled transformer bank.

Muddy station was constructed about 1912 to serve the Southern Illinois Railway and Power Co., which operated an electric inter-urban system between Harrisburg, Eldorado and Carrier Mills.

At the time the CIPS acquired the generating station, the Muddy plant had a generating capacity of 7,500 kilowatts. From that time until 1922 the company added two 5,000-kilowatt turbine-generators and one 10,000-kilowatt turbine-generator, bringing the station's total generating capacity to 25,000 kilowatts. During that time, and the original 2,500-kilowatt turbines and boilers were removed. In recent years, one of the 5,000-kilowatt units has been operated as a synchronous condenser.

Of the men who worked at Muddy station, eight remain there at present. Of the others, three who elected to remain in the Harrisburg area, two who were hired on a temporary basis, and one who had about 11 years of service and will reach retirement age in December, a total of six men, were released. All the rest have accepted positions at other CIPS power stations.

Hal Choisser, 36, formerly of Raleigh, is killed in Nevada.

Word has been received by relatives of the death of a former Raleigh man, Hal Choisser, 36, who was killed in an automobile accident at Tonopah, Nevada, Thursday.

Mr. Choisser, known as Hal Hart, the "Smiling Cowboy," had been in Hollywood, Calif., for the past ten years and was on movie location at Tonopah when fatally injured.

He started his entertainment career as a member of the Pappy Cheshire troupe on station KMOX. Louis, then went to Hollywood and had appeared in many western movies as a cowboy singer.

He was a son of the late Louie Choisser of Raleigh and his mother is Mrs. Gladys Little, Bloomington. His wife, Dixie, survives and there is also a brother, Danny Choisser of Hollywood, and a sister, Mrs. Eloise Davis, Bloomington.

Mood Choisser of Raleigh is an uncle and Prudence Abney, also of Raleigh, is an aunt.

The body is at the Logan funeral home, Tonopah, and funeral services will be held there Sunday at 2 p. m. with burial at Tonopah.

Surviving are the wife, Helen Choisser Wright, two daughters, Helen Wright and Emily Wright at home; two sons, Don of Lombard, Calif., and Paul, Shiremanstown, Pa.

He was a son of the late John Wright and Emmaline Musgrave, Raleigh.

The body will be received by the Martin funeral home of Eldorado, but time of arrival is not known and funeral plans are incomplete.

Begin Blasting Tunnel Into Hill to Prevent Landslide Into Panama Canal

PANAMA CITY, Panama — Explosives experts have started blasting a tunnel into teetering Contractors Hill with the knowledge a tiny miscalculation could plug up the Panama Canal with a million cubic yards of rock.

The risk is worth taking. If engineers fail to check the widening split in the massive 410-foot hill, its face is bound to break loose sooner or later and slide into the canal.

Last week a private contractor began boring an inspection tunnel into the side of the hill, the first step in a $3,391,000 project to prevent the landslide. Each time a charge of dynamite is detonated in the excavation engineers and workmen stand back with bated breath.

A landslide, whether touched off by a miscalculated blast or by nature, would close the Panama Canal for an estimated 15 months. This would be a stiff military and diplomatic blow to the United States, not to mention the havoc it would cause the commercial shipping world.

The inspection tunnel will cut across the fissure and relieve the pressure. Then the real work will begin, shaving rock from the hill itself, layer by layer.

House Committee Slashes Eisenhower's Request for Agencies by 40 Per Cent

The House Appropriations Committee today whacked about 40 per cent from the almost two billion dollars President Eisenhower asked for numerous federal agencies and operations.

The economy ax hit just about everywhere as the committee approved only $1,194,188,079, a slash of $765,770,188. Erased entirely were supplemental funds asked for juvenile delinquency and educational programs, and specialized hospital construction.

Mr. Eisenhower had asked for 35 million dollars to start a new federal aid program for construction of chronic disease and other specialized hospitals. The committee tossed this out on grounds the program would not start this year.

It also eliminated entirely $2,025,000 for three educational programs — the White House conference on education, cooperative research in education, and the National Advisory Committee on Education.

The biggest cut was in the $1,100,000,000 asked for military construction. This was just about halved to $571,600,000. The Air Force bore the brunt with a cut of $461,917,000.

The committee approved special funds to increase the Capitol police force and the Secret Service to protect President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and their families.

Other Congress highlights:

Taxes: House and Senate tax conferees agreed on a plan for more liberal tax consideration to working widows, widowers, divorced persons and low-income couples for child care expenses. In general, the liberalized tax plan provides for deductions up to $600 a year for the expense of hiring a nursemaid or babysitter to care for children up to age 12. The conferees are working on different versions of President Eisenhower's $1,300,000,000 tax revision program.

Housing: Senate housing investigators heard that a group of Britons got a $322,000 "windfall" profit on a New York apartment project insured by the Federal Housing Administration and then sold it for another $350,000 profit. The project was Alleypark Homes, a development at Bayside, N. Y. Joseph L. Maged, New York attorney for the Britons, said there was nothing wrong in the operation. He said "they don't fancy anyone calling them crooks and thieves."

Foreign Aid: The Senate Armed Services Committee approved the $3,100,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill. Efforts are expected to be made on the Senate floor to change it. The actual appropriations must be voted later.

Contempt: Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) asked the Senate to cite for contempt three persons who appeared before his committee and balked at some questions. They are Abraham Unger of New York; Corliss Lamont, New York; and Albert Shadowitz, Nutley, N. J.

Supports: The House Banking Committee approved a bill to provide an additional 1½ billion dollars for the Commodity Credit Corp. to support farm prices. The agency now has 8½ billion dollars of which more than six billion dollars already is invested.

Two Girls Admit Beating Mother Of One to Death

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand — Two 16-year-old schoolgirls who resented parental efforts to break up their close friendship confessed today they lured the mother of one to a park and beat her to death with a brick wrapped in a silk stocking.

The girls were Juliet Hulme, daughter of a British scientist, and Pauline Parker, the second of three children born to Mrs. Honora Mary Parker and Herbert Rieper, a company manager who lived with her 23 years before her death.

Juliet and Pauline were ordered committed for trial on murder charges by a supreme court after police introduced dual confessions and a diary by Pauline who wrote, "I feel very excited and sort of night-before-Christmas" on the eve of her mother's death.

There was no flicker of emotion on the fresh young face of either girl as they listened to the confessions and the diary excerpts which brought gasps of horror from listeners. They chatted as they left the courtroom.

Mrs. Parker opposed the girls' friendship, their yearning to write novels and Pauline's plans to accompany the Hulmes to Africa.

And on the day of the murder, June 22, an entry headed "The Happy Event" said: "I felt very excited last night. Sort of night-before-Christmas."

Juliet's confession told of the actual murder. She told of their decision to go to Victoria Park and throw out the matter of the trip to Africa.

"I was expecting Mrs. Rieper (Mrs. Parker) to be attacked. I heard noises behind me. It was loud conversation and anger. I went back. I saw Pauline hit Mrs. Rieper with the brick in the stocking. I took the stocking and hit her too."

She was terrified. I thought one of them had to die. I wanted to help Pauline. It was terrible. Mrs. Rieper moved convulsively. We both held her. She was still alive when we left her. The brick had come out of the stocking."

Sahara Coal Co. Scholarships to U. of I. Available

Sahara Coal Co. mining engineering scholarships to the University of Illinois are still available, Henry C. Woods, chairman of the board, revealed in a letter to the Daily Register today.

The letter:

"In your July 12th issue of the Harrisburg Daily Register I note a report of the winners of scholarships to the University of Illinois. As you know, I believe, the Sahara Coal Company, Inc. gave about eight scholarships to the University of Illinois for coal mining engineering. These were at the rate of $200.00 per year for four years. We also gave one Fellowship and one Doctorate for those that want to continue their study in coal mining."

So that we would not get involved as to who would be selected, we left the choice of applicants up to the Board at the University of Illinois. We, however, did instruct them to give first preference to sons of Sahara Coal Company's miners in Saline County. As a second choice to sons of any Saline County miners. Third, to any sons of any miners in the State of Illinois. Fourth, to any other worthy students."

"Unfortunately, up to the present all of these scholarships have not been used up and it might be well for you to inform the local people that these are still available at the University of Illinois."

Estimate Six To Eight Dead, 12 are Missing

Firemen Confine Flames to Plant Area, Protect Town

CHESTERTOWN, Md. — A series of "atomic-like" blasts demolished a fireworks and munitions plant today and for a time threatened this community of 3,200 persons with destruction by fire.

Some 4½ hours after the explosions started, the Red Cross estimated six to eight persons dead, 12 missing, and 50 injured. It said only four of the injured were still in the hospital.

Civil defense officials said six to eight bodies had been recovered. They could not be certain of the exact number because some had been torn apart by the blast.

These officials earlier had reported four dead, six missing, and 40 injured. The Red Cross estimate apparently was based on later information.

Most Townfolk Leave

The blasts started about 10 a. m. in buildings of the Kent Mfg. Co., which makes fireworks and produces simulated battle devices for Army maneuvers.

Most of the residents of Chestertown were evacuated from the town. At first it was feared that the hot, powder-fed fires might spread through the town. Firemen finally, however, confined the flames to the plant area.

Still a threat was a large quantity of explosives stored in underground vats. Firemen feared that as the surface heat became more intense, the subterranean powder stores would explode.

Flames Stall Rescue

State police at first feared the death toll would be high. Flames and the danger of new explosions stalled rescue work. More than two hours after the first blasts a state policeman said there had been no report of survivors.

But as rescue work got organized, it developed that many of the plant's 200 to 300 employees escaped.

Of some 50 ultimately taken to the Kent Queen Anne Hospital here, most required only first aid treatment.

Ambulances and fire-fighting trucks were rushed to the scene from as far away as Wilmington, Del., and Washington, D. C. Chestertown is about 30 miles east of Baltimore across Chesapeake Bay and 65 miles northeast of Washington.

Disaster Workers Mobilize

The Red Cross, civil defense, and the military mobilized disaster workers and equipment.

Police declared a state of emergency.

The Coast Guard sent cutters up the Chester River to the scene and a number of helicopters were dispatched by the Marine Corps and

Let Contract to Resurface Granger, Sloan Streets

A contract was let yesterday for the repair of Granger street from Poplar street to Robinson and Sloan street west to Land. The bid was $100 below the estimate.

The contract went to F. C. Feutz of Paris, Ill., who has set the big asphalt plant on Barnett street near Route 45 to prepare bituminous surfacing for Route 45 from Harrisburg to Carrier Mills.

Feutz, hoping to get the Harrisburg job done before surfacing material is needed for Route 45, plans to get started on the local project next Tuesday.

The work will be a maintenance contract to be financed through motor fuel tax funds. The streets were resurfaced under the motor fuel tax program and the state division of highways insists that such streets be maintained. So a thin coating of surfacing material will be poured over the present bituminous surfacing to keep the streets from going bad.

R. R. Brown, motor fuel tax engineer here, said that the streets will not be closed to traffic during the job but urged motorists to show extreme caution if driving on Granger or the part of Sloan to be resurfaced, and if possible they should use other streets.

CONGRESS SHOULD ADOPT 'WATCHDOG' PLAN FOR CIA

Editorial By Bruce Blossat

How to check on the effectiveness and soundness of such a super-secret organization as the Central Intelligence Agency is a difficult problem. Its activities cannot be discussed and paraded in public hearings without giving immeasurable help to the Communists.

There has been no congressional scrutiny of the CIA since it was established in 1947 as this country's principal coordinator and evaluator of foreign intelligence.

More than once in the past year or so Senator McCarthy has declared that the CIA is infiltrated with Communists. He has assigned some of his investigating committee staff men to probe the agency, but has been blocked by CIA Chief Allen Dulles and President Eisenhower from getting the sworn testimony of CIA employees.

Dulles and the President take the position that far more harm than good would come from the kind of investigation McCarthy could be expected to conduct.

During the recent Army-McCarthy hearings, the senator reiterated his position that an inquiry was called for. Another bitter clash between McCarthy and the Administration was seen, since neither the President nor Dulles showed any intention of backing down.

Now, however, the reconstituted Hoover Commission, studying government reorganization, has announced it will look into CIA and kindred foreign intelligence activities. A task force headed by Gen. Mark Clark, former Far East commander, will handle the study.

No indication was given what led the commission to this decision, or what, specifically, it will do.

It is a fair guess, nevertheless, that the efficiency and general soundness of the agency will be closely checked. Whether "soundness" may be taken to include "security" cannot be said.

McCarthy evidently assumes security matters will indeed enter in, for upon his return to Washington he has offered to hand the task force the information on which he says he based his charges of Red infiltration into CIA.

While he did not quite close the door to later inquiry by his own group, the senator obviously has made a considerable concession.

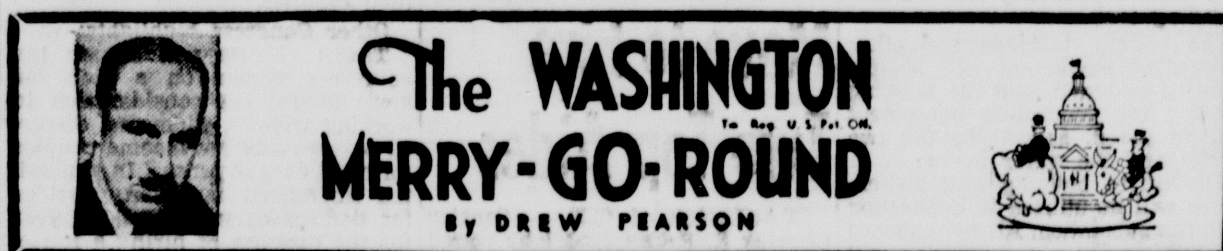

The Hoover Commission is a highly responsible organization. Its inquiry seems certain to be conducted quietly, thoroughly, and fairly. The country, and the Congress, will have a better idea of CIA's value when General Clark reports his findings.

Yet this move can hardly provide the lasting answer to the problem of checking on so secret an agency. In an earlier report, the Hoover group itself suggested creation of a permanent congressional "watchdog" committee for CIA, on the model of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Senator Mansfield, Montana Democrat, and 20 other senators are coauthors of a proposal to establish that sort of committee. We've said it before and we'll say it again: The proposal deserves to be adopted.

Hoo-Ray! Looks Like He'll Make It After All!

DREW PEARSON SAYS: U. S. Businessmen Get Higher Subsidies Than U. S. Farmers; Farmers Sore Over Charge They Are 'High Men On The Totem Pole'; Private Utilities And Secretary Humphrey's Company All Benefit From Government Subsidies.

WASHINGTON. — Few people have ever seen the budget of the United States. Some people think it's merely an ethereal set of figures that Congress debates about every year. Actually, however, it's about the size of a New York phone book and just about as dull. The last few pages, however, are extremely significant and ought to be paraded on the Senate floor during the debate on so-called farm subsidies.

For these figures show the amount of subsidies paid to farmers, veterans, businessmen, and others. Highest subsidy, of course, is listed as paid to veterans in the form of bonuses and hospitalization, totaling $4,214,000,000 in 1953.

What may surprise some people, however, is that the subsidy paid to businessmen is about twice as much as that paid to farmers. Farmers got $523,000,000 for soil conservation, price supports, and other government help in 1953; whereas businessmen got $1,216,000,000.

This aid to business, incidentally, was not to small businessmen. It was to upper-bracket business which has yelled so loud about "creeping socialism" yet spent so much money lobbying Congress into voting more money for "galloping favoritism."

They include "helpless little groups" like the United States Steel Corporation, the big utility companies, and some of the big shipping companies.

HUMPHREY GOT TAX WRITE-OFF

Here, for instance, are some of the subsidies big business has been able to obtain in contrast to farmers' price supports.

The M. A. Hanna company, one of the biggest iron and steel holding companies in the USA, largely owned and operated by George Humphrey before he became secretary of the treasury, got more than $22,000,000 in tax subsidies just a few weeks before he entered the cabinet. The Hanna Coal and Ore Co., one of his subsidiaries, got a 75 per cent depreciation on an $11,345,000 iron-ore investment in Minnesota and another 70 per cent tax write-off on a $22,000,000 nickel plant in Oregon. The two plants were permitted to depreciate 70 and 75 per cent of their value in five years instead of about 25 years.

These tax write-offs were rushed through during the last few weeks of the Truman administration so Humphrey's company would not be embarrassed by asking for them when he became secretary of the treasury later.

Today the new tax bill gives the same kind of quick depreciation tax write-offs to other types of big business, and Randolph Paul, former general counsel of the Treasury and author of "Taxation in the United States," has told congressmen this tax subsidy will cost the public $40,000,000,000 in the next 17 years. In contrast, when a farmer builds a barn he gets no tax write-off, but must spread his depreciation over a period of about 30 years.

UTILITY SUBSIDIES

The big utility companies spend an average of half a million dollars a year on their lobby to influence congress. At least that's the amount they register officially with Congress. Today this appears to be reaping dividends. One utility combine, Dixon-Yates, has just put across by special order of President Eisenhower a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, despite the opposition of a majority of AEC commissioners.

Under this order, Dixon-Yates will invest only $5,300,000 cash, be guaranteed a 9 per cent return by Uncle Sam; will own the plant at the end of 25 years; and will get the benefit of an annual $3,600,000 overcharge made up by the taxpayers for the difference between what they would have to pay TVA instead of Dixon-Yates.

This was why Congressman Hollifield of California, a member of the congressional committee on atomic energy, calls this not "creeping socialism" but "galloping federal favoritism."

In contrast the farmer is guaranteed no 9 per cent return on his investment. He has been guaranteed 90 per cent of the price paid during a cross-section average of previous years.

MORE GRADY

Here are some of the other subsidies to business to which the U. S. budget refers when it shows that business annually gets about twice the subsidy given to farmers.

Certain airlines get between $70,000,000 and $95,000,000 annually for carrying the mail. On top of this the taxpayers have paid for radar, lighting beacons and other safety aids for the airlines totaling $21,361,040 in 1951, $13,007,035 in 1952, and $7,000,000 in 1953. Taxpayers also paid $73,931,733 for personnel to operate these safety aids in 1951, plus $80,484,761 in 1952, plus about $105,000,000 in 1953. In addition, another $37,000,000 and $16,000,000 went for runways and construction work at airports in 1951-52 and another $19,821,000 in 1953.

The shipping companies also get an average of around $30,000,000 a year in subsidies to operate their vessels; the United States Lines got a construction subsidy of $18,225,000, plus a national defense subsidy of $24,061,000 for building the SS United States; while the Grace Lines and Moore-McCormick are being voted subsidies for four new vessels by the current Congress.

These vessels will be turned over to the United States in time of war and this subsidy policy may be a wise one. Also, it is important to keep U. S. airlines operating around the world. But likewise, the American farmer has to feed a good part of the world in case of war and he, like the shipping and airplane companies, can't contract and expand his economy for peace or wars without facing economic chaos.

HIGH ON TOTEM POLE

Indirect subsidies given to American business, though not listed by the U. S. budget, also include such things as giving war factories to big business for a song—such as per the gift of the government steel plant at Geneva, Utah, to U. S. Steel for only $47,175,000 though the government paid 191,326,000 when private industry flatly refused to build.

And last year the Eisenhower administration decided to sell the government-owned rubber factories to private industry, though the taxpayers shelled out millions for them, and though they made profit for the government one year ago of $73,000,000.

These are some of the reasons why the farm belt has turned sour on Washington and why farmers feel unhappy when Jack Davis, former right-hand man of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, describes the farmer as "high man on the totem pole."

Poets may say that love is blind, but Miss Sarah Trotter says she has yet to meet a married man with the courage to mention such a thing in front of his wife.

Pickets Block Oak Ridge Work Despite Injunction

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Some 2,000 AFL laborers threw up picket lines "three-deep" today to foil an attempt by one Atomic Energy contractor to resume work on a multi-million dollar super - secret construction project.

A spokesman for the Rust Engineering Co., builder of the secret Y12 project which was officially halted two days ago because of union inability to cope with the wildcaters, said only about 275 of the 5,500 men employed managed to get through the lines.

Rust had announced it would resume work at 7:30 a. m. today after it and the other AEC contractor, Maxon Construction Co., obtained an injunction against the strikers.

The injunction, granted by Chancellor Charles Dawson of Knox County, was intended to prevent union members, affiliates or agents from picketing, congesting roads or interfering with traffic around the area where minor violence has occurred.

But the AEC spokesman said the strikers doubled and tripled their pickets at the entrances in defiance of the injunction and that the picture looked very bad.

Molotov Refuses To Compromise On Peace Plan

GENEVA — France called on Britain today for help in breaking down Soviet refusals to compromise on the West's final proposal for an honorable end to the war in Indochina.

The plea to British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden was made after Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov refused to give any ground in arguments with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France that lasted until the early hours of this morning.

Mendes-France sought assistance in a race against time. He has promised to obtain "peace with honor" by July 20 or resign.

Effingham Buys Water Company

CHICAGO (UP)—The city of Effingham, Ill., has purchased the Effingham Water Co. for $1,100,000 to complete one of the largest municipal transfers in Illinois history, attorneys said.

An interest rate of 3 3/4 per cent was agreed upon. The investment firm providing the bond is Townsend, Dabney and Tyson of Boston, Mass. Chapman and Cutler of Chicago handled legal transactions.

Mayor and Edson scheduled an afternoon meeting with Molotov. Both Mendes-France and Edson appeared to be in a hopeful mood.

French sources described Molotov as "absolutely unyielding" on all of the major points brought up by the premier.

"Molotov seemed bent not on negotiating but on holding out for the highest possible terms," a French delegation source said.

The stony-faced Russian and Mendes-France ended their arguments on the veranda of the premier's rented villa at 1 a. m.

Mrs. Robert Davis Honors Sisters With Informal Party

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Davis have as their guests her sisters, Mrs. George C. Cooksey of Tomah, Wis., and Mrs. W. O. Hearn of San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. Davis entertained informally at her home in Omaha honoring Mrs. Cooksey and Mrs. Hearn. The guests were girlhood friends of the honorees. They included Mesdames Ellen Upchurch, Pearl Morse, Blanche Elder, Jan Jones, Bess Adams, Frieda Pulliam, Nell Gampher, Maggie Hamilton, Myrtle Cook, Ida Chesser, Romane Brown, Madge Roberts, Pauline Burnett Purcell, Susan Schrader, Margaret Ann Haring, Madeline Holdaway, Noma Caveness, Gladys Reynolds, Angles Choisser, Lucille Erwood, Elva Simpson, Ruth Upchurch, Pearl Carney and Dr. Neva Skelton of Eldorado.

Mesdames Nelle Meyers, Grace Turner, Ruth Halbersleben, Pamela Dorris and Miss Bess Pemberton of Harrisburg.

Mesdames Addie Anderson of Equality, Tennie Cathey of Miami, Florida, Iona Pillers of Davenport, Iowa, Kathleen Burnett of Galatia, Hilda Dole of Benton, Bertha Sidal of Poplar Bluff, Mo.

The highlight of the evening was the discovery of the fact that there were twenty-two guests who had been students of Miss Bess Pemberton who was taught in the high school at Eldorado.

Jean Ann Haring, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Max Haring, sang the vocal selection "I Heard a Forest Praying."

Mrs. Haring of Eldorado presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Earl Russell Sr. has returned to her home at Gainesville, Fla., after visiting two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Huston and brothers, W. H. Huston and family, Rev. Carl Huston and family, Cynthia, Ind., and brother-in-law, Ed Russell, at Herrin, a host of friends in Harrisburg and Eldorado. She came to Harrisburg because of her mother's illness.

Rev. C. A. Cronk and family are spending their vacation with his parents in Iowa. Rev. Cronk is pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Carrier Mills. In his absence Elbert Lee Whitaker will speak in the morning services and Kenneth Gee in the evening service.

Organize Boys of Woodcraft Sportsmen's Club Here by Woodmen of the World

A Boys of Woodcraft Sportsmen's club is being organized in Harrisburg by J. H. Hobbs, Pope county high school teacher and local organizer for the Woodmen of the World, which sponsors these clubs.

Boys must be between the ages of 7-12 and 15-12 years to participate. Meetings are held twice each month during the school term from 7 to 9 p. m. They are taught how to handle firearms in a safe manner and shoot accurately under the official methods of the National Rifle association. Rifles are furnished by the Woodmen of the World.

The fishing program includes fly tying, bait casting, fly casting, Conservation of wildlife and soil is stressed throughout the program.

An article entitled, "The Come-back," which pertains to club activities, appeared in Outdoor Life last year. The National Conserva-

Copyright 1953 by Henry Greger Tolson. Printed by arrangement with the publisher, London News, Inc. Distributed by NLA Service.

Ricky's face was serious. "I'm starting the club again, but there's something else. If I want that custom shop, I've got to help prove that guys aren't outlaws just because they want their cars different. Rods have to be made respectable, if there's a future in building them."

"Are you and Merle still planning to go in business together?" "I don't know about Merle. Think we could get a loan from the bank to start the business?"

"I make loans to farmers who have the ability to bring in a crop. Whether or not the bank can lend you money will depend on how good a risk you appear to be."

"I've never tried anything and Merle's never succeeded," Ricky said wryly.

"Merle's a good practical mechanic," Mr. Madison said. "But your business needs someone who can create designs, and manage the financial end of it. Someone to manage the business."

"I know," Ricky admitted. "Sometimes when I'm up here trying to figure out new designs I get stuck. It's not just a question of what lines I'd like to draw, but what can be done with different materials and what can't. I think there's a big future in new kinds of plastic bodies, but I don't know enough about the materials. If I could experiment..."

Iowa State's close and good," Mr. Madison said. "We could work something out, Ricky. All we have to do is try."

"I'll try Dad. And I'll prove it by starting up the Dellville Timing Association again. We might get the horse laugh from a lot of guys, but what we want is important. Too important to let anybody kid us out of it."

The new Dellville Timing Association was three weeks old, and as far as Ricky was concerned it had produced only one tangible result—Sharon was allowed to drive with him again. They decided to celebrate by going to a drive-in movie in Des Moines.

The little coupe was washed and polished to a spotless finish when Ricky parked in front of Sharon's house. In the right hand corner of his windshield he carried the sticker, the DTA, a blue wheel with the letters DTA in the center in gold.

So far the sticker was producing everything but the desired effect. Designed to inform police and other authorities that the driver was careful, helpful and competent, it had been ignored by all authorities other than Arnie. He said it looked fine. Most adults scowled at it as the symbol of bad driving, and the other teen-age drivers went out of their way trying to tease him into drag races and other violations of the DTA code. It hadn't been an easy three weeks.

Mr. Bruce opened the door, pipe in mouth. "She'll be down in a minute, Ricky," he said, leading Ricky to the living room. "Acts as though she'd never seen you before, and is afraid to meet you."

"I guess women think it's fashionable to be late," Ricky said, glancing at his wrist watch.

Mr. Bruce snorted. "That's what they say, my boy. The truth is, they're born without any sense of time at all."

"Dad says Mom thinks time stands still when she's on the telephone."

"Don't mention that instrument to me," Mr. Bruce said, shuddering. "If you ever have any teenage daughters of your own, you'll know what I mean."

Ricky blushed. "I guess some of that's my fault."

"Well, I'd hope she isn't talking to herself. By the way, how's the DTA coming?"

"Pretty slow," Ricky said glumly. "We have seven members. Jerry, Sherm, me and four kids who don't even own cars. They drive the family cars—when they can get them."

"What's your program now?" "That's what we can't figure out. We don't have enough members to do much of anything but sit around and talk shop."

"You're in the same boat as all the other organizations," Mr. Bruce said. "What to do that will create a little interest and build membership."

"The drag strip would do it," Ricky said. "But the way we're going, it will be a thousand years before we get that."

"You'll have to work toward it. You'll make it. Just don't be discouraged."

"Oh, I'm not, Mr. Bruce," Ricky said. But he was.

"You need something that will focus public attention on your group. A driving team might do it. The Dellville Timing Association Drivers, or something."

"We don't have any place to practice."

"It would be easier to get a place to practice than a driving strip. And a step in the right direction. I... Ah, here comes Sharon."

Ricky stood up as Sharon came into the room. He'd expected her to be in a skirt and blouse or slacks. His eyes widened when he saw her in a print dress with a wide belt and full skirt. And she was wearing white sandals with a fairly high heel. She had combed her hair back up, to be cool, and Ricky, who had been expecting an informal girl, was suddenly struck dumb at the sight of the beautiful girl who was to be his date.

"Approve?" Sharon asked Ricky, her smile teasing a little.

"I guess I do," he answered awkwardly. "You look real nice."

"Well, kids," Mr. Bruce said, "I won't insult you by telling you to be careful. Have a good time."

"Thanks," Ricky said. "We will. And no drags."

"You can drive in high," Mr. Bruce said dryly.

GLAD THAT DOOR IS OPEN: Members of the First Baptist church Building and Grounds committee are shown on the steps of the new education building as Vernard E. Clayton, committee chairman, opens the door. In the group are Dr. L. I. Webb, Ed Creek, H. D. Spence, Rev. Joe Morman, J. B. Clark, Mr. Clayton, Loy Barger, Bob Burnett, Chas. Wilson and Paul Hays.

T. O. Elliott, general superintendent of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church more than 25 years ago, established the graded system of Sunday School training, under the Southern Baptist standard of excellence.

W. S. Blackman was the pastor of the First Baptist church who introduced the first missionary program before 1900.

New Educational Building Has Plenty of Room For Activities; Nine Large Assemblies

The new First Baptist church Youth or Educational building, to be formally occupied Sunday, July 18, has more than 17,000 feet of floor space, divided at present into more than 40 class rooms and assemblies, with arrangements providing for division into four additional rooms if needed.

Kitchen and dining room facilities and a small parlor or conference room are also provided.

On the various floors are nine large assemblies, each equipped with Mendelssohn spinet pianos. Three hundred new metal chairs are available for distribution to the classrooms and assemblies where needed.

Cornerstone Donated
There are ten rest rooms in the building, the largest of which, on the main floor, includes a powder room with a large mirror, for the ladies.

Sixteen storage closets have been built, in addition to the room cabinets for weekly Sunday school supplies and other storage.

Incandescent lights with frosted ceiling globes illuminate the building, and provision has been made for the installation of electrically refrigerated drinking fountains later.

The cornerstone of the building, which was laid a week ago without public fanfare, was cut and donated by B. E. May, the monument dealer. The stone reads: "Educational Bldg., First Baptist Church, 1954."

Gifts Beautify Building
Inside the door, near the beautiful stairway leading to the upper floors, is a large American flag which was donated by Mrs. J. B. Blackman, a former Sunday school worker, who has been confined to her home for three years because of an accidental injury to her hip.

A large framed print of a noted painting of Christ will be hung in the Junior department, a gift from the late Mrs. D. D. Todd, also a former teacher. It was delivered to the pastor, Rev. Morman last Sunday by her daughter, Mrs. John Porter of Culver City, Calif.

Other gifts to help beautify the new building will be made known as they are received, Rev. Morman said.

The general floor arrangements provide for two Intermediate assemblies and 14 class rooms on the upper or third main floor. Provision is made for changing the rooms to provide for two additional class rooms when needed.

Parlor for Meetings, Weddings
On the second main floor are two Junior departments, with the same assembly and class room arrangements and the same provisions for adding extra rooms as on the third floor.

On the main floor are five large combination assembly-class rooms, two for the Beginners and three for the Primary departments. In the northwest corner of the main floor is a room large enough to be used as a parlor for informal weddings and for conferences and board meetings which would not require use of the church sanctuary, but would be larger than class rooms.

At the basement level, to be used by the Young People's department, are provisions for three class rooms, with dividers being opened between two of the rooms to make a larger assembly room.

The kitchen and dining room are also on this level.

Sunday School Plans

In the new plans for the Sunday school, the young married couples up to 25 years of age will meet at the church in the library for their classes. Adults from 25 to 35 will meet in the former Junior department rooms. Adults from 36 to 45 and from 46 up will continue to use the Sunday school assembly room. The nursery and cradle roll will continue to use the church.

Training union classes from the Beginners to the Young People will meet in the new building beginning Sunday evening, according to Ed Creek, Training Union director.

RETIRING SUPERINTENDENT
—Fred G. "Bob" Burnett, will retire as general superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday school at the end of the Sunday school year September 30. Mr. Burnett will at that time complete his 28th year in the situation.

Fellowship and Recreation are Not Overlooked

Large Kitchen, Dining Room In the Basement

Fellowship and recreation have not been overlooked in planning the new First Baptist educational building.

A part of the basement level has been arranged for recreation, serving of food or refreshments and for social activities.

At the rear of the basement is a large kitchen, dining room and storage room.

The kitchen is equipped with a new nine-foot refrigerator, two double sinks and cabinets and a small and large gas range. The former was donated by Mrs. J. B. Clark. The latter was moved from the old church kitchen and has been rebuilt, including a new oven lining.

To the south of the kitchen is a large storage room for kitchen supplies, Sunday school material, etc.

The dining room, west of the kitchen, is 30 x 50 feet and will serve also as a recreation room. Two shuffleboard courts have been laid into the asphalt tile floor covering.

Benches along the north and east walls serve a double purpose of covering heating pipes and offering extra seating when needed at church socials, dinners and parties.

Wednesday the women of the church spent the day moving equipment to the new kitchen, washing all of the dishes and getting them located for convenience in the new cabinets.

Since the old kitchen had been depleted of much of its equipment, through time and use, women of the church will undoubtedly take pride in supplying much needed new equipment to their lovely new church kitchen.

Building Was All by Local Firms, Workers

The new First Baptist church educational building is almost one hundred per cent a local project.

Except for general plans by Hardie C. Bass, Nashville, Tenn., department church architect of the Baptist Sunday school board, the work was done by local people with materials purchased locally, and the project was financed locally.

The roof was handled by Cannan and Cook of Harrisburg. Heister's Plumbing and Heating had charge of that part of the work. Electrical work was done by Ford Electric, of which J. B. Clark, a member of the building committee, is a firm member.

Stricklin's paint and wallpaper store furnished the paint.

Lumber and building materials were furnished by Barnes Lumber Co., Durham Lumber Co., Pulliam Lumber Co. and the Harrisburg Lumber Co.

Credit to Committee Chairmen

Charles A. Mitchell was building superintendent, and under his direction some changes were made from the architect's plans. He or his workers made most of the cabinets, all of the class room tables and some of the other furnishings.

The masonry was supervised by Joe Ingram. Local painters handled that part of the work.

Paul Hays of the building committee has been in charge of equipment. The Gideumb Furniture store furnished the 300 new metal chairs and laid all the floor covering.

The Lloyd L. Parker furniture store furnished the nine new Mendelssohn spinet pianos for the assembly rooms.

The Building and Grounds committee of the church has had overall supervision, and much credit is especially due to Vernard E. Clayton, chairman of the committee, who has spent numerous hours in personal attention and supervision of the work.

George Mayes and Joe Pierson are believed to have been deacons in the first Baptist church longer than any other that are now living. Mr. Pierson has been a deacon for 44 years, and Mr. Mayes for 55 years, 37 of which were in the First Baptist church of Harrisburg.

Dedicate First Baptist Youth Building Sunday

in his Christian life and years of service to his Master.

That it was built while Ed Brantley was assistant superintendent and will be occupied during his first year as Sunday School Superintendent sets new goals for this young deacon, whose talents and ability and ambition for the First Baptist church are developing leadership. The growth and success of this leadership is to expand or decline according to the cooperation of the congregation.

The pastor, the Rev. Joe Morman, has told the members that his own continued service here will depend upon evidence that they are ready to go forward in expanding Christian fellowship and service.

To the Finance and Building committees, whose united efforts pushed the project forward steadily, it is the reward of fruitful effort in which they had encouragement, financial and moral and spiritual support to bring about a new era in the life of their church home.

Completion of the new building has been of very great interest to all of the Sunday school workers, especially the superintendents, some of whom have been teaching and supervising for many years. They are going to be happy to see the classes occupying spacious quarters, the equipment of which is modern, new and clean, with ample teaching supplies close at hand in the convenient storage arrangements which have been made.

The departmental superintendents are: Material, Raymond Stump; Training and Standards, Mrs. Bert Bethel; Social, Mrs. Charles Henn; Evangelism, Bert Bethel;

Nursery, Mrs. Clarence Howell, coordinator; Mrs. Lavinia Waite, babies in bed; Mrs. Kenneth Dunn, one year, Mrs. Marjorie Braddock, two years, Albertha House, three year olds;

THEY DIRECTED FINANCING—Here are the members of the First Baptist church finance committee, which has charge of all financial affairs, including canvass of members, and which had the responsibility of handling the financing of the new educational building. Dr. L. I. Webb, chairman, is seated at the rear of the table with Delmar Hiller and Mrs. Paul Ritz. Guy Lawrence, Chas. Wilson and Bob Burnett are seated in front. Standing, from left to right, are: Mrs. Oval Heatherly, Mora Laxton, Corby Wickham, Ed Creek, Bob Mugge, Vernard Clayton, H. D. Spence and Walter Wirth.

Close Co-Operation by Finance, Building Committees, All Others Shown in Church Expansion

Intense activity this week has marked the final arrangements by the First Baptist church of Harrisburg to occupy the new Youth building, which was formerly the Saline hotel.

Finishing touches have been made at a rapid rate, much of the work having been accomplished in the hottest temperatures experienced during this mid-summer month.

Each day has brought nearer to completion the details necessary before the formal occupancy Sunday, July 18.

Throughout the whole program there has been the closest co-operation and harmony, this being especially true of the two principal responsible groups — the Finance committee, of which Dr. L. I. Webb is chairman, and the Building and Grounds committee, of which Vernard E. Clayton is chairman.

Preliminaries Early in 1953
The program of preliminaries and actual effort which has resulted in the church expansion program was begun early in 1953, and has been brought to a successful conclusion in a minimum time.

Early last year, under the pastorate of Dr. R. W. Wallis, who is now situated in Seattle, Washington, there were discussions of the urgent need for expansion of church facilities, especially in the Sunday school department.

Mrs. Wallis is credited with learning that the Saline hotel would be for sale, due to the death of the owner, the late O. O. Cummins, and Dr. Webb started negotiating an option. Loy Barger was one of the church members who was interested in the project, and he offered personally to pay any realtor's commission if the hotel property were purchased.

Approved By Dr. Bass

Harry Erton, real estate broker, was engaged to make inquiries, and on March 26, 1953, the purchase of the building was negotiated.

Between the date of the option and the sale, Dr. Hardie C. Bass of Nashville, Tenn., of the department of church architecture, Baptist Sunday School board, was invited here to inspect the building, and to make recommendations as to whether it could be converted satisfactorily for Sunday school and educational purposes.

He approved the structure, and following the purchase, drew up a general architectural design to be followed.

Appointed to serve with Dr. Webb on the finance committee were Vernard E. Clayton, H. D. Spence, Robert Mugge, Ed Creek, Guy Lawrence, Cecil Pulliam, Ed Brantley, Bob Burnett, Chas. Wilson, Mora Laxton, Corby Wickham and Delmar Hiller. Women of the church were represented by Miss Fern Moore, then secretary to the pastor, and Mrs. Paul Hays, then president of the Women's Missionary society. Mrs. Oval Heatherly succeeded Mrs. Hays as WMS president and became a member of the committee, and Mrs. Hays remained when Miss Moore resigned.

Church Incorporated

The financing as originally planned, provided for pledges and loans to cover more than $110,000 expenditure, but later the church was incorporated, and bonds were issued.

The financing program included the appointment by Dr. Webb of 12 members of the finance committee as "disciples" and each of these in turn named 10 to 12 "apostles" who contacted church members and other prospective donors direct.

An initial canvass secured more than $25,000 which was used as a preliminary in the construction, and the pledges received in the canvass will be on a continuing basis in retiring the bonded indebtedness.

In order to issue corporation bonds, the church was incorporated under the laws of Illinois, and is legally known as the First Baptist Church, Inc.

At the time of the incorporation, Joe Pierson, Cecil Pulliam, C. Aud Turner, H. C. Lewis and Walter Wirth were church trustees, and they were re-elected as trustees or directors in complying with laws of incorporation. Mr. Turner is chairman of the board.

$70,000 in Bonds
To pay the indebtedness incurred in the building program, not cared for by current contributions, the trustees issued $70,000 in bonds. In offering the bonds for sale, the finance committee first contacted members of the church, and the issue was oversubscribed by some $20,000.

For the protection of the bond holders, Guy Lawrence, Bob Mugge and H. D. Spence have been named trustees for the bond holders. They receive monthly from the church a sum which they place in a separate account to pay the bonds and interest as they fall due.

Soon after preliminaries toward the purchase of the hotel building were out of the way, the Building and Grounds committee of the church began the physical work.

Building Grounds Committee
Vernard E. Clayton is chairman of this committee. The other members are Dr. Webb, Fred B. "Bob" Burnett, Ed Creek, Loy Barger, J. B. Clark, H. D. Spence, Charles Wilson, Dr. G. R. Johnson, Paul Hays and the pastor.

Some individuals serve on both the finance and the building committees, and some of the mem-

OLD STRUCTURE—This is the old Saline hotel as photographed just a few days before reconstruction was begun to convert the building to an educational center by the First Baptist church of Harrisburg. As will be noticed from pictures of the completed structure, the doorway canopy was removed and the bay windows have been replaced with new flush-type windows as the principal outside improvements. The improvement inside is as extensive as that outside, with floors leveled, partitions changed, new electrical wiring, much new plastering, new lighting, plumbing and heating, new stairs, fire escapes and other comparable modern improvements.

Mora Laxton, J. B. Moore and Cyrus Steinsultz have been deacons in the First Baptist church for 26 years, having been ordained in the year of 1928, during the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the church.

In 1928 the First Baptist church celebrated its sixtieth year and in that year had 1,200 members. Rev. Julian Atwood was in his sixth year as pastor and the church membership had doubled in that time.

Members hold various church or Sunday school offices.

Bob Burnett is Sunday school superintendent and will be succeeded in that capacity early this fall by Ed Brantley, now associate superintendent. Ed Creek is Training Union director. Cecil Pulliam is superintendent of the Adult department of the Sunday school. H. D. Spence is chairman of the Board of Deacons, of which Mr. Mugge, Guy Lawrence and Vernard Clayton are members. Chas. Wilson is church treasurer.

CHURCH PASTOR — Rev. Joe Morman, pastor of the First Baptist church, assumed his duties May 23. He came here from Hale Center, Texas, succeeding Dr. R. W. Wallis, who left Harrisburg early last fall. Interim pastors served for about an eight months period before Rev. Morman was called to Harrisburg.

Parsonage is Also Included in Church Property Improvement

The parsonage of the First Baptist church has been included in the program of property improvement.

Just before Rev. and Mrs. Joe Morman and family moved in, which was in mid-June, the house was entirely redecorated inside, the floors upstairs were sanded, and the porch was refloored.

A disposal unit and a new hot water heater were installed. The mantel was repaired, and this fall the house will be regutted and painted outside. V. E. Clayton, building and grounds committee chairman said.

The parsonage was built following the 1937 flood, to replace an old frame building, which was used as a refugee hospital during the flood. It had been erected in 1897, when A. R. Willett was pastor.

Mrs. Oval Heatherly, president of the Missionary Union, and several members spent Wednesday of this week tidying up the new kitchen, and discussing ways and means to add to its utensils and equipment.

James Land is president of the Brotherhood of the Illinois Baptist Association and is secretary of the First Baptist church in which H. C. Renshaw is president of the Brotherhood.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate for Taxes or Special Assessments; and Notice of Filing Petition for Order to Issue Tax Deed
To: W. O. Morris, T. R. McCormick and Unknown owners or interested parties.

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 15th day of October, 1951, the County Court of Saline County, Illinois entered a judgment and order of sale upon delinquent lands in the County of Saline and State of Illinois for the year 1950 and prior thereto; that the undersigned, as purchaser, on the 22nd day of October, 1951, at the sale ordered in said proceedings which sale was held by the County Collector of said County on the day aforesaid at the Court House in the City of Harrisburg, in the County of Saline, and State of Illinois, purchased said delinquent land for the taxes, interest, penalties and costs due and unpaid for the year 1950 and prior thereto. And that such delinquent lands so purchased are more particularly described as follows:

Southeast One-fourth of Southeast One-fourth of Section Sixteen, Township Ten South, Range Five East of the Third Principal Meridian, situated in County of Saline and State of Illinois.

Such real estate so purchased was last taxed in the name of W. O. Morris. The time for redemption of said real estate will expire on the 18th day of October, 1954. On the 15th day of July, 1954, the undersigned filed a petition in the County Court of Saline County, Illinois in the same proceedings in which the aforesaid judgment and order of sale was entered. Said petition prays that the court enter an order directing the County Clerk to issue a tax deed to the undersigned if the real estate shall not be redeemed from the sale; And the undersigned intends to make an application to the court on the 18th day of October, 1954, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. for an order on said petition that a deed issue to the undersigned if the real estate shall not be redeemed from the sale.

U. S. Urges Immediate Stoppag Defense of Asia If Geneva Parley Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is urging its Allies to agree to an immediate stopgap defense of Southeast Asia if the Geneva conference fails to end the Indochina war, authoritative sources said today.

Under the plan, they said, there would be a series of emergency collective security measures to safeguard the area until the U.S.-proposed Southeast Asia alliance can be formed.

These sources said one of these measures could be a formal Allied warning to the Communists to keep their hands off certain areas or risk retaliation. If this retaliation actually became necessary, they said, Congress would be asked to authorize U. S. intervention.

The idea of shaping an immediate action defense plan has been under study here and in Allied capitals for many weeks. Some steps have been taken. But informants said the project has been given urgent new priority because of the coming truce showdown at Geneva.

Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith headed for Geneva this afternoon to sit in on the cease-fire negotiations with Russian, Red China and Red Viet Minh leaders. He goes under stern instructions to watch peace developments closely but to avoid giving any American blessing to appeasement.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles believes the cease-fire possibilities fall far short of what the United States would like to see France obtain for Indochina.

French On The Spot
But his emergency trip to Paris this week convinced him the French are on the spot and that Premier Pierre Mendes-France is going to do the best he can. The result is that the United States has assured France it will "repect a cease-fire" but that it will not guarantee it because that would be honoring Communist aggression.

On his return Thursday from his Paris talks, Dulles said a "formula had been found for constructive Allied unity which will have a beneficial effect on the Geneva conference. And it carries no danger."

RUDEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Lee DeNeal and Mr. and Mrs. Leo DeNeal visited George DeNeal and family of St. Louis, Mo., Sunday night.

Many gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Gribble Friday night for a shower and charivari in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Val Gribble.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy DeNeal and son attended the funeral of her uncle who was fatally injured in the mines at West Frankfort Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Langford and family visited Mrs. Nettie Langford Sunday afternoon.

The following have visited at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Bob Booten and family recently: Mr. and Mrs. Challis Buchanan and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop and son, Linda Burns, Mrs. Helen Hargrave and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Lee DeNeal, Mr. and Mrs. Roy DeNeal and son.

Fire Destroys Fireworks Plant

CHICAGO (AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed a fireworks plant near suburban Schiller Park today and police said at least two persons were killed and seven injured.

The plant was known as the Melrose Park Fireworks Co., police said. After an explosion, it burned to the ground.

Suburban police identified the dead tentatively as Michael Caratino, 60, and Mario Rigano, 65.

They said injured included Anthony Guarino, Elmwood Park, Ill., who they believed was owner of the place.

Injured were taken to Resurrection Hospital in suburban Park Ridge, police said.

B29 Lands After Damage in Air

BOSTON (AP)—A B-29 bomber with nine men aboard was damaged in the air over Cape Cod today in a close brush with two jet planes.

The B-29 landed an emergency landing at Logan Airport. Bomber crew members said they did not know whether their craft collided with one of the other two planes or whether it was hit by a falling object from one of them.

The B-29 was from Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N. Y. and was on a training flight over Massachusetts.

The B-29 pilot, Lt. Glenn N. Hess, 26, of Rock Island, Ill., said "all I felt was a French POWs Tell of Jungle 'Death March'

Regiment said "one of my men opened the veins of his wrists with a razor blade after our guards forced him to climb down from a buffalo on which we had hoisted him because of his exhaustion."

By the time they reached Thanh Hoa, they said, most of those who survived were exhausted, sick with dysentery, their clothes in rags and their feet bare, blistered and swollen.

In the Thanh Hoa, they said, prisoners died at the rate of four or five a day of dysentery, jungle fever and tuberculosis.

A prisoner also supplied the first information on the fate of Gen. De Castries since his men saw him being driven off in a Communist jeep from the smoking ruins of his fortress.

Identified by French authorities only as Pierre S., the prisoner said other French captives told him that De Castries had been whisked off to a special camp in extreme northern Viet Nam right on the Red China border.

Pierre S. said the Reds feared the French High command might parachute a commando team to rescue him.

Psychiatrist Testifies Dentist Was Insane When He Shot His Wife's Suitor

ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP)—A psychiatrist who examined Dr. Kenneth B. Small testified today the society dentist was "definitely insane" when he killed his wife's New York suitor.

Dr. Ira Altschuler, testified for the defense in the fifth and perhaps the final day of Small's first degree murder trial for the shooting of Jules Lack, 45.

Cross-examination of Small was quickly concluded.

County Prosecutor Dwight M. Cheever was able to get only vague statements today from Small about the shooting.

"I Don't Know"
"I can't say what I said. I can't say what I did. I don't know," Small repeatedly told Cheever.

Alternately sobbing and shouting, the handsome 31-year-old dentist testified Thursday he had only "hazy" recollections of the Memorial Day weekend murder in a fashionable Lake Michigan lodge.

"I rode all over," he said. "I don't remember where I saw some people standing outside a house and one looked like my wife. I turned in the driveway."

"The next thing I remember I was in a room. My wife was in

HUSBAND ON TRIAL FOR MURDER — Mrs. Kenneth Small again broke down and fled into a rest room during the murder trial of her husband, Dr. Kenneth Small, Detroit dentist. shorts and Lack was there. I remember a gun going off. And screaming.

"I saw Jules Lack with blood all over him. A fellow shouted at me and I guess I shouted too."

"I guess I shot him. I don't deny it. Apparently I did. Then I collapsed and they took me to jail."

Small sobbed and twisted his hands as he spoke. At times, when he mentioned Lack, he shouted and screamed.

With frequent interruptions to regain his composure, Small told how his wife Edith, 30, returned with their three sons from a Florida vacation in March and told him of her love for Lack, 45, president of a New York air conditioning firm. Small said his wife told him: "I don't love you any more. You don't know how to live. You're small. I want to live big now."

Told Reasons for Love
Small said she told him she loved Lack because "he is wealthy, he makes $55,000 a year. At nightclubs waiters know where to seat him. He tells me I look pretty. He knows important people, and his two children are nicer than ours."

Small said he asked his wife: "Do you mean his children are dearer to you than your own three?"

"Yes," he quoted her as answering.

The she added: "You don't even know how to invest. Buy electronic stock and get 10 per cent."

At one point, Small said, he telephoned Lack in New York City. Asks Leave Wife Alone

Illinois Man Named to Ag Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson Thursday named Lester E. Leigh, a Republican from Sparland, Ill., as Midwest area director for the Commodities Stabilization Service.

Leigh, presently chairman of the Illinois State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, replaces William W. Chandler.

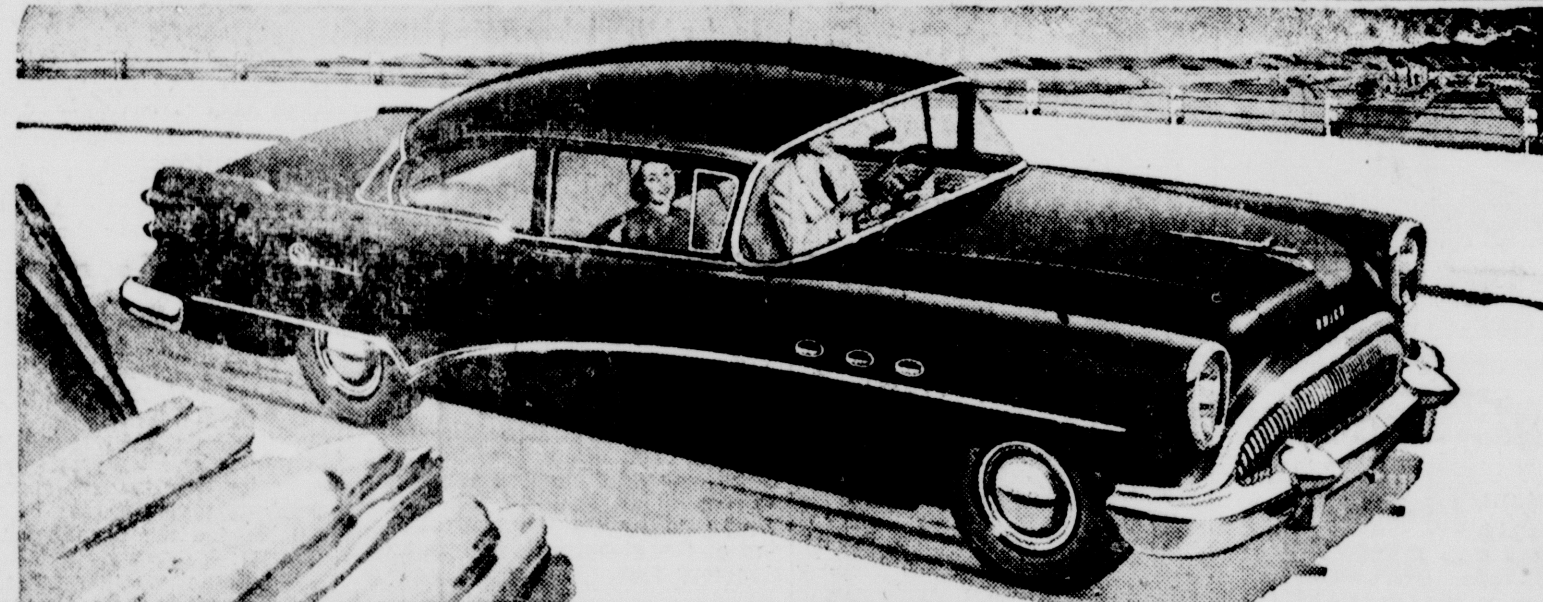

A spokesman said Chandler will stay in the department, but his future job was not announced.

Leigh, who operates a 560-acre farm, has served as president of his country Farm Bureau Federation, and was a local oil company executive before being named to the new post.

wife," Lack said. "Don't threaten me, or you'll be a dead duck."

Small said his wife left on May 28, telling him she was going to Chicago to spend the weekend with girl friends.

Shortly afterward, he said, his wife phoned from Fennville, near the Lake Michigan home, to inquire about their children. After the phone call, he said, "I got an irresistible urge. I got in my car and drove 200 miles across to western Michigan."

HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and we boldly show our price here to prove it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But—dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power—Buick V8 power—plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity—more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness—including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the times, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-
